Hi Mark,

Further to the consultation response from Anglian Water (attached) in respect of the Gartree2 planning application. As discussed in our meeting yesterday, the project drainage engineer is in discussions with Anglian Water in respect of the proposed new pumping station (at Gartree2) and the increase of capacity at the facility at Foxton. In addition, the project drainage engineer has provided the following response:

All the issues over downstream capacity etc are being dealt with by the ongoing discussions we are having with Anglian Water. Access to the existing assets is covered, and the location of the new pumping station is in Anglian Water's control.

In terms of the possible diversions, we may need a minor diversion, but this will probably be dealt with as part of the new pumping station works. We are also discussing this with AW as part of ongoing discussions.

I trust this clarifies the matters identified in the AW response, however should you require any further information please don't hesitate to contact me.

Kind Regards

Katharine
